Hello Contributors,

On behalf of MongoDB, thank you for the effort and collaboration that went into our latest book, Architectures for the Intelligent AI-Ready Enterprise. The title may be a mouthful, but the content is sharp, and together we've published something that matters.

The book is now live on Amazon and Packt. A few highlights worth noting:

- 25+ AI use cases delivering measurable results across 6+ industries
- 15+ enterprise case studies featuring organizations such as Novo Nordisk, Ceto, IntellectAI, and Base 39
- Contributions from MongoDB and partners including Iguazio by McKinsey, Cognigy, RegData, Fireworks AI, enChoice, and more

Getting this ready in time for MongoDB.local New York on September 17 was no small task. From last-minute edits to legal approvals, you made it possible. Thank you for pushing with us across the finish line.

Now for the exciting part! What's next:

- Hundreds of copies will be printed for MongoDB.local New York and London (October 7)
- Copies will also be shared at Investor Day and with ~100 top clients during our Customer Advisory Boards
- Additional distribution is planned for the final European .local events of the year in Frankfurt, Amsterdam, Paris, Stockholm, and Madrid. The book will also feature in a global sales and advertising campaign, including the CEO's keynote and the CFO's investor message following .local New York

If you would like cover images, links to sales pages, or discount codes, please reach out to Sebastian Rojas Arbulu. We've also attached suggested social media posts to make it easy to spread the word. And since one milestone leads to the next, we're already moving forward with the next edition of Database Digest, MongoDB's industry e-zine. We'll be in touch soon with new opportunities to contribute and showcase your tech.

Thanks again for making this book possible. I look forward to celebrating the launch with you!

Cheers,Boris Bialek
